The 7th art will meet the 12th art on Wednesday 13 November at the Théâtre du Léman in Geneva, as iconic French actress Carole Bouquet hosts this 24th edition of the Grand Prix d'Horlogerie de Genève (GPHG) celebrating the excellence of the watchmaking art.

Join us from 6.15 pm on Live.gphg.org to enjoy live coverage of the red carpet followed by the announcement of the 2024 winners. Available in French or in simultaneously translated English, the awards ceremony scheduled to start at 6.30 pm sharp will also be broadcast on our YouTube and Facebook pages.

Euronews will broadcast the event live on its website in several languages, while Hantang Culture will share this not-to-be-missed happening in Chinese on its many channels. Léman Bleu will provide deferred coverage of the ceremony at 8.15 pm on Saturday 14 December 2024.

The 90 timepieces nominated by the GPHG Academy and in the running to win one of the 20 prizes - including the famous "Aiguille d'Or" Grand Prix - are on display until 17 November at the Musée Rath in Geneva. The Bucharest University Library will host the award-winning watches from 21 to 23 November, on the initiative of MisterWatch Magazine.
